A demonstration teaches a skill by the "show how" method. Posters or equivalent visual aids are used to enhance the teaching process. The posters or visual aids will include at least a title, materials, process, and summary.

An illustrated talk teaches a concept or skill that would be impractical to demonstrate in a classroom setting. Posters or equivalent visual aids should include at least an introduction/title card, information card, and a summary card. Models or other visual aids can be used to enhance the presentation.

An individual presentation is delivered by one speaker. A team presentation is delivered by up to three speakers. Team members should divide work and speaking parts equally. An uneven distribution of work or speaking parts will impact the scoring of the "Presentation" skill.

The presentation can range in length from three minutes for an individual primary presentation to 15 minutes for a senior individual or team presentation. The complexity of the topic, and the age of participants should dictate the appropriate length.

Each presentation should have clearly identifiable sections including an introduction, main body, and conclusion. Speakers are strongly encouraged to relate the presentation to their current 4-H project work or 4-H activities. If the speaker is questioned concerning the relation of the presentation to a 4-H activity and the presentation is not based on a 4-H activity, the speaker should connect the presentation to a club or project based 4-H presentation program. School assignments are not appropriate subjects for presentations.

The work areas of the presentation should be used to the speaker's best advantage. Product labels should be limited to generic names and product names should be covered. Elevation boards and mirrors may be used by the speaker to enhance the visibility of the work area.

Handing out flyers and samples should not cause a distraction to other presentations. Refer to the room host for an appropriate time for the distribution

Speakers may not use notes. Posters should provide any necessary prompting.

Judges may ask questions in this format.

Scientific Demonstrations and Illustrated Talks

A scientific demonstration uses the steps used by scientists to answer questions and solve problems. The scientific process includes the following steps:

1. Ask a question.
2. Form a hypothesis of what you expect the answer to your question to be.
3. Test the hypothesis by conducting an experiment.
4. Analyze the results of the tests and information you have gathered.
5. Draw conclusions regarding the hypothesis from the tests.
6. Communicate the results.

The speaker will use posters or equivalent visual aids to enhance the teaching process. The visual aids will include a title, question, hypothesis, test, and an analysis card. This presentation style will have a minimum of 5 poster cards or equivalent multimedia presentation.

This presentation style can either be in the form of a demonstration where the experiment is performed in its entirety or in representative parts. If the experiment can not be performed, then it will be an illustrated talk. The cards are the same for either a demonstration or illustrated talk.

An individual presentation is delivered by one speaker. A team presentation is delivered by up to three speakers. Team members should divide work and speaking parts equally. An uneven distribution of work or speaking parts will impact the scoring of the "Presentation" skill.

The presentation can range in length from three minutes for an individual primary presentation to 15 minutes for a senior team presentation. The complexity of the topic, age of participants, and audience interest should dictate the appropriate length.

Speakers are encouraged to relate the presentation to current project work or 4-H activity. School assignments or science fair displays are not appropriate for this style of presentation.

The presentation work area should be used to the speaker's best advantage. Product labels should be limited to generic names. Elevation boards and mirrors can be used by the speaker to enhance the visibility of the work area.

Speakers may not use notes. Posters should provide any necessary prompting.

This format requires that the speaker write and deliver his/her own speech. The speaker will persuade, inform, or educate the audience on a single issue or topic. The topic is only limited by age appropriateness of the topic for the member and good taste. Advocacy of political or religious views is not appropriate. The purpose of this category is to encourage participants to give a speech in which they seek out accurate information, organize it into a useful form and competently present the information.

A speech has a clear and understandable theme or thesis. Citing sources can increase the credibility of the speech if it does not interfere with the delivery of the prepared speech. The speaker is expected to discuss the chosen topic intelligently, with a degree of originality, in an interesting manner, and with some benefit to the audience.

Prepared speeches may only be given as an individual activity.

A speech generally lasts from 2-5 minutes, but may extend up to 10 minutes based on age or experience. Time should only be considered when judging the effectiveness of the prepared speech. Speakers will not be timed during the speech.

No props or costumes are allowed. No visual aids will be used by the speaker to assist with the delivery of the prepared speech. Notes may be used by the speaker to assist with the delivery of the speech, but they should be inconspicuous and not detract from the speech.

A prepared speech should have a clearly defined introduction, body and summation. The body contains the development of the main ideas of the prepared speech. The summation should not introduce new material, but should be used to reinforce the ideas developed in the body and cement the theme and main ideas in the minds of the audience.

Judges may ask questions in this format.

Speakers may read any published written work that is age appropriate and acceptable for use in a public school classroom. (Examples may include, but are not limited to: children's stories, poetry, essays, speeches, articles, excerpts from novels that stand alone, etc.) Political and religious advocacy is not appropriate.

In addition to introducing him/herself the speaker should demonstrate knowledge about the reading selection by describing the title, the author, the characters, the purpose or setting of the writing, and any other introductory information that might enhance the understanding of the piece by the audience. The reading should be completed with a short conclusion that will leave a vivid memory of the selection in the minds of the audience. The length of the introduction and conclusion should be proportionate to the length of the reading portion, but not exceed 5 minutes.

The speaker creates the characters and the setting through voice inflection and hand gestures. There is no stage or set, so the speaker helps the audience create a mental picture for the selection. The speaker is presenting the reading as at a story hour, not acting it out.

This format is limited to individual participants.

The speaker may sit or stand during the presentation.

This is not a memorized speech, but is a dramatic reading. The speaker should have the source material present during the reading and use it during the reading. The speaker may use either the original publication or a copy held in a portfolio.

No props such as title cards, costumes, note cards or materials other than the reading material should be used in the reading.

The reading portion of the presentation should be no longer than five minutes. While older speakers may have more complex readings with more characters or more complex ideas, the length of the reading material should not lengthen with the speaker's age. Five minutes should be adequate for the speaker to demonstrate his/her range of reading skills. Exceeding time guidelines does not result in disqualification.

Judges may ask questions in this format.

Impromptu speaking involves speeches that the speaker has written him/herself at the competition. One at a time, the speakers will randomly draw a piece of paper with a topic on it. The topics will be developed from the pre-announced categories for the event. From the time that the speaker is given the topic, he/she will have three minutes to prepare a speech.

The maximum speaking time is five minutes. Any time used in excess of the five minute time limit should be considered a fault against the speaker's performance, but is not grounds for disqualification.

Senior Impromptu Speaking is limited to participants in the 9th grade or above, but no less than 13 years of age as of January 1 of the current program year. Senior speakers will select from questions related to issues in modern society. Intermediate Impromptu Speaking is limited to participants in the 6th through 8th grades, but not less than 10 years of age. Intermediate speakers will select from questions related to participation in the 4-H Youth Development Program. There is no Junior category for Impromptu Public Speaking. This format is limited to individual participants.

The speaker should incorporate an introduction, a body and a summation in the delivery of the speech. The body of the speech should be used for the development of the thesis or topic of the speech.

Guidelines for preparing an impromptu speech:

1. Clearly state the topic as it was given to the speaker.
2. Give a reasonable interpretation of the topic. Neither exaggerate by reading more into the issue than is there, nor understate the issue.
3. Give the speech a clear central purpose.
4. What is the strategy? A speech can inform or persuade. Persuasion is suggested as it provides a direction and purpose to the speech. The judges may not consider the position taken by the speaker, but will consider how well the position is stated, developed, and supported.

An educational display is an organized visual presentation of a program or a concept. A display should be designed to convey its message in a limited amount of time. Educational displays do not include science fair exhibits, other depictions of processes, project exhibits or collections.

Educational Displays may exhibit one of the following display formats:

- Card Table Display (approximately 30" x 30") This format will feature a tri-fold poster board that includes a title, the member's name and 4-H affiliation, and a depiction of the program or concept. The table may be used as part of the display.

- Panel Display (approximately 4' x 4') The panel is presented vertically on an easel. The display will include, as a minimum, a title, the member's name and 4-H affiliation, and a depiction of the program or concept.

An individual presentation is delivered by one speaker. A team presentation is delivered by two speakers. Team members should divide work and speaking parts. An uneven distribution of work or speaking parts will impact the scoring of the "Presentation" skill.

All lettering and visual depictions on the displays will be understandable or readable by an average adult from no less than a four foot distance.

Speakers are expected to introduce the educational display with a prepared oral presentation including the title, information about how the speaker belongs to 4-H, how the display is relevant to his/her 4-H experience, and an overview of the display. Topics that the speaker may want to include in the overview are the intended audience for the display, what ideas that the presenter hopes the viewer will learn from the display, and where the display may be used. The speaker should not read the display to the judges and not repeat the steps presented in the display. This is a public speaking contest so the speaker should use the time wisely and support the visual presentation. Once the speaker completes the oral presentation he/she will have a dialog with the judges about the display. Each speaker should plan to spend approximately the same amount of time with the judges as he/she would during a demonstration or illustrated talk.

Speakers may not use notes during the presentation of the display to the judges. The display should provide any necessary prompting.

Judges are expected to have an educational discussion with the presenter about the display, including questions, in this format.
